

SDG 10 REDUCE INEQUALITY

SDG 10: Reduced Inequality focuses on reducing inequality within and among countries, addressing both social, economic, and political disparities. It is one of the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) established by the United Nations in 2015. Achieving SDG 10 involves promoting inclusivity, ensuring equal access to resources, and tackling disparities in income, opportunities, and other essential aspects of life.

Santosh University, integrates SDG 10 into its educational and social initiatives. Santosh University typically contribute to SDG 10 through:

1. Inclusive Education Programs

- Scholarships and Financial Aid: Santosh University offers scholarships, financial aid, or fee-waivers to students from economically disadvantaged backgrounds, helping to reduce financial barriers to education.
- Special Programs for Marginalized Groups: University runs targeted programs for marginalized communities and people with disabilities. These programs can help them access quality education, mentorship, and resources.

2. Community Outreach and Support

- Health Camps and Awareness Programs: As a university with a strong focus on health sciences, Santosh University organizes free health camps, awareness campaigns, or medical support services in underserved areas to reduce health inequalities.
- Collaborations with NGOs and Local Communities: Working with local communities and NGOs, the university promotes programs that focus on improving social inclusion and reducing inequalities, especially in rural or underdeveloped regions.

3. Research on Inequality

- Studies on Social Inequalities: The university conducts several research focusing on health, education, and economic inequalities, producing reports, policy briefs, or recommendations aimed at reducing disparities in the local and national context.
- Inclusive Healthcare Research: Santosh University focuses on reducing health disparities by researching affordable healthcare solutions for economically disadvantaged populations.

4. Promoting Gender Equality

 Programs for Women Empowerment: University Supports gender equality through mentorship programs, leadership workshops, and initiatives that encourage female students in leadership and research roles. It has women leaders in several academic and administrative post of university like Vice Chancellor, Director IQAC, Dean Research etc. • Preventing Discrimination: University has its own policies and programs to ensure that all students, regardless of gender, ethnicity, or socioeconomic background, are treated equally within the university environment.

5. Support for Differently-abled Students

- Accessibility Initiatives: University ensures that students with disabilities have access to all facilities, including accessible learning materials, assistive technology, and ramps for physical accessibility.
- Inclusive Curriculum: Developing and offering curricula that address the needs of differently-abled individuals, ensuring they are part of the educational experience.

7. Promoting Awareness of SDGs

- SDG Awareness Campaigns: The University Organizes workshops, seminars, or campaigns to raise awareness among students and staff about SDG 10 and other related goals.
- Student-Driven Initiatives: Santosh University always encourages students to engage in initiatives that tackle social inequalities, such as volunteering, advocacy, or project work aimed at improving social outcomes for marginalized groups.

8. Partnerships and Collaborations

• Collaboration with International Universities: The university works with international institutions and organizations that focus on reducing global inequalities, providing students with the opportunity to participate in exchange programs, research, and joint initiatives.

International Women's Day Department of General Medicine

Title: International Women's Day 2023 Celebration on & CME Program

Date: 10th March 2023

Venue: Lecture Hall, Santosh Hospital, Ghaziabad

Theme: #EmbraceEquity: Accelerating Equality and Empowerment.

On 10 MARCH 2023 Department of Medicine, Santosh Medical College celebrated International Women's Day 2023.

The theme this year is #EmbraceEquity: Accelerating Equality and Empowerment. The welcome address was given by Dr Ashok Kumar, HOD of Medicine and welcomed the chief guest Dr. Tripta Bhagat, Vice Chancellor & Dr Alka

Aggarwal, Dean Medical, Santosh Deemed To Be University. The programme then started with the first speaker Dr Shivani Bansal, professor of medicine, as she explained the role of women and highlighted achievements made by women, but also an opportunity to become beer informed and collaborate and brainstorm about the path forward. The next session was a panel discussion and the topic for discussion was "challenges faced by working women". The panelist for the session was Dr Alpana Agarwal, Registrar, Santosh Deemed To Be University, Dr Rani Shrivastava (Professor Clinical Psychology), Dr Jyo Batra (Professor, Biochemistry & Dean Research), Dr Manisha Gupta (Professor& Head, Obstetrics & Gynecology). In the panel discussion, they explained that today the world recognizes and celebrates the women and girls who are championing the advancement of transformative technology and digital education. A gender-responsive approach to innovation, technology and digital education can increase the awareness of women and girls regarding their rights and civic engagement. There was also discussion about the there is a recent increase in health issues among women, partly due to lifestyle choices and partly due to a lack of knowledge. Women and girls in many parts of the world face the risks of unintended pregnancies, and sexually transmitted infections including HIV and cervical cancer, malnutrition, depression, and respiratory infections, amongst other risks. Digital health and information platforms can improve health outcomes for women and girls and enhance their autonomy and privacy – they enable informed health decision-making, improve access to health services, therapies, and medicines, and increase awareness about women's rights, including sexual and reproductive health and rights.

There was a lecture on "Anemia-A Neglected Epidemic" by Dr Sonakshi and Dr Rashmi Mishra (Assistant professor, Medicine) which was chaired by Dr Neelima (Professor, Obstetrics & Gynaecology) and Dr Sarita Aggarwal (HOD, Ophthalmology). Another small lecture on Anemia therapeutics was delivered by Professor & Head, Medicine, Dr. Ashok Kumar, in which he described the injectable Iron therapy for Iron Deficiency Anemia. Two Beautiful dance performances showing women empowerment were done by the students of the Department of B. Sc. Clinical Nutrition & Dietetics which were well appreciated by all the guests & attendees. The programme was ended by 100 people approx.

The message conveyed was what is equity and equality and how to have them along with accepting diversity, differences, and various discrimination.

Exploring Global Horizons: Santosh Deemed to be University's MHA Students' Odyssey to Lincoln University, Malaysia 14th April 2024 to 21st April 2024

Submitted by

Dr Nidhi Bansal

Asst Professor, Dept of Hospital Administration

To foster a holistic global learning experience, Santosh Deemed to be University orchestrated an international educational and cultural tour for its Master of Hospital Administration (MHA) students to Lincoln University, Malaysia. This enriching journey spanned from the 14th to the 21st of April 2024, encapsulating a meticulously curated program aimed at broadening students' horizons, exposing them to diverse cultures, and deepening their understanding of global perspectives in healthcare management.

Program Overview

The centerpiece of this endeavor was a one-week workshop meticulously designed to augment students' comprehension and intellectual prowess in Hospital Administration and Management. The workshop aimed to cultivate independent thinking, imbue human values emphasizing selfless service, and foster executive and leadership skills. Through a blend of technical, business, and social education, the program aspired to equip students for pivotal leadership roles in both public and private sectors of healthcare facilities. With a tailored curriculum and an international perspective, Lincoln University College (LUC) stood as the beacon for shaping future leaders in the global healthcare industry.

Itinerary Highlights

The itinerary unfolded a comprehensive schedule, divided into four daily sessions interspersed with breaks and cultural excursions. From the students' arrival at Kuala Lumpur International Airport to the tour's culmination, each day was meticulously crafted to offer a blend of academic rigor and cultural immersion.

Day 0: Departure and Arrival

On the eve of departure, students bid farewell to their familiar surroundings at Santosh Deemed to be University, embarking on their international journey from Indira Gandhi International Airport, New Delhi. Arriving in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, they were warmly greeted by representatives from Lincoln University College, setting the stage for an enriching experience ahead.

Day 1: Arrival and Landmark Visits

The students' inaugural day in Malaysia commenced with a warm welcome at Lincoln University, followed by a campus overview. A guided tour of iconic landmarks such as the Petronas Twin Towers and Pintasan Saloma Bridge provided a glimpse into Malaysia's rich cultural heritage and modern architectural marvels.

Day 2: Academic Sessions and Cultural Exploration

The academic sessions delved into the essence of entrepreneurship mindset, world economics' impact on international business, and the intricacies of digital entrepreneurship. These sessions, led by esteemed faculty members, enriched students' understanding of the evolving dynamics within the healthcare industry. The day concluded with cultural exchanges over South Indian cuisine, fostering camaraderie among participants.

Day 3: Opportunities and Challenges

Exploring the opportunities and challenges of international business, students gained insights into market-fit product development and strategic frameworks for global customers. A visit to Assunta Hospital provided a firsthand understanding of operational mechanisms and challenges within the Malaysian healthcare landscape.

Day 4: Presentations and Hospital Visits

Students showcased their learnings from the hospital visit through presentations, engaging in discussions on operational efficiencies and areas for improvement. Expert lectures on business model generation and strategic planning further augmented their understanding, culminating in a visit to Shah Alam Government Hospital.

Day 5: Business Model Canvas and Certification

The day commenced with presentations on the business model canvas, facilitating a deeper understanding of strategic planning in healthcare management. Subsequently, students received certificates marking the successful completion of the workshop, culminating in cultural exploration and reflection over dinner.

Day 6: Final Sessions and Cultural Excursions

The concluding day featured presentations on the business model canvas and a ceremonial closure of the workshop. Students indulged in cultural excursions, exploring Chinatown and Central Market, fostering lasting memories and friendships.

Day 7: Cultural Exploration and Departure

The final day encapsulated a cultural expedition to Batu Caves Temple and Dataran Merdeka, offering students a glimpse into Malaysia's vibrant heritage. With hearts and minds enriched by the journey, students bid adieu to Malaysia, carrying forth memories and insights to shape their future endeavors.

Conclusion:

Santosh Deemed to be University's international educational tour to Lincoln University, Malaysia, epitomized a transformative journey for MHA students. Through a harmonious blend of academic rigor, cultural immersion, and experiential learning, the program transcended boundaries, equipping students with invaluable insights and perspectives to navigate the complexities of healthcare management in a globalized world. As they departed for home, the students carried with them not only certificates of achievement but also a profound appreciation for the interconnectedness of healthcare systems across borders and cultures.
